VACCINATION, IMMIGRATION AND VISA REQUIREMENTS

The information on the applicable vaccination, immigration and visa requirements was correct on the date of printing (subject to change). These notices and requirements only apply to citizens of Germany, Austria and Switzerland. Citizens of other countries are asked to enquire about their own requirements at their consulate or embassy or when booking in their travel agency or at their consulate or embassy. These notes refer to the cruise including the arrival and departure advertised in the catalogue as well as to the pre- and post-cruise programs on our website. As some of the necessary visas have a limited period of validity and as visa requirements can change, please wait until you receive the cruise information approximately three months prior to departure before applying for a visa.

GENERAL INFORMATION ON VACCINATION REQUIREMENTS

- Vaccination against Covid-19 is currently not necessary. If vaccination requirements change due to local regulations, we will inform you immediately. You will be sent up-to-date information about this with your travel documents.
- The passenger should research infection prevention, vaccine protection and other prophylactic measures in advance; if necessary, the passenger should seek medical advice on the risks of thrombosis and other health problems, as well as vaccine intolerance. For general information, please refer to the public health authorities, doctors experienced in travel medicine, tropical disease specialists, information services specialising in travel medicine or the Federal Centre for Health Education.
- In all cases, passengers should have their immunisation protection against tetanus, diphtheria and polio tested and, if necessary, boosted. Please consult your doctor prior to departure for further recommended vaccines (e.g. hepatitis A, malaria and tick-borne encephalitis).
- Yellow fever vaccinations must be administered at least ten days before entering the country for which the vaccination is mandatory and entered in the vaccination certificate. Otherwise entry will be refused. Cruises and countries for which a yellow fever vaccination is compulsory are listed in our table. Despite the most recent statement from the World Health Organisation (WHO) that a single vaccination is sufficient for lifelong protection from yellow fever, this is contrary to the requirements of the respective countries, which still require a booster every ten years. National legislation is binding in these instances and legally supersedes the recommendations of the WHO. If you cannot prove that you have been vaccinated against yellow fever, embarkation will not be possible. Please refer to clause 4 of our Terms and Conditions of Travel. In exceptional cases, a certificate of vaccine intolerance may be sufficient. However, we cannot guarantee that this will be accepted by the local authorities. If you have spent time in an area with a yellow fever epidemic before your cruise, we urgently advise you to carry proof of your yellow fever vaccination on your person and to show it if required by the authorities on board.

- There are enhanced vaccination requirements in the South Seas region and compliance with them is a prerequisite for entry. Vaccination against measles in particular is increasingly vital. Please check the current vaccination requirements and your vaccination record before you travel. There should be at least four weeks between the first and second measles vaccinations. The second vaccination must be administered at least 15 days before entering the country for which the vaccination is mandatory and entered in the vaccination certificate. Otherwise entry will be refused. This does not apply to children under six months of age, pregnant women or individuals for whom the measles vaccination is contraindicated and can demonstrate this with a medical certificate.

GENERAL INFORMATION ON IMMIGRATION AND VISA REQUIREMENTS

- In general, unless indicated otherwise, passengers require a valid passport or children's passport which must have an expiry date more than six months after the end of the cruise.
- Your passport must contain two free opposing pages per country in order for you to enter and leave certain countries (especially outside of Western Europe). Therefore, please check in advance whether your passport meets the requirements for the cruise you have booked.
- Special entry requirements apply for minors in many countries, especially if they are not travelling with their parents (and instead with their grandparents, for example) or are travelling with only one parent. A written declaration of consent from the parents and/or an international birth certificate may be required, for example. These documents must be written and certified at least in English, but often also in the language of the respective country of travel. Please inform yourself in advance at the relevant embassies.
- Any immigration or visa fees accrued are not covered by the cruise price.
- Please enquire with your travel agency as to the current entry requirements in place at your cruise destinations. Your travel agency will be happy to assist you in procuring any necessary visas.

GUESTS WITH LIMITED MOBILITY

On the whole, cruises on the HANSEATIC nature are not suitable for guests with limited mobility. Please note that a large number of our planned Zodiac landings and shore activities require a high level of physical fitness; depending on the conditions, we can only guarantee participation for guests with no mobility restrictions. The HANSEATIC nature has one cabin with fully accessible layout and equipment (cabin 404). We nevertheless highly recommend that you travel together with a responsible companion because, due to special procedures on board a ship, continuous attendance is not possible. Certain groups of people can only be accommodated if they are accompanied. Please bring your own standard-size wheelchair or any other medical equipment with you if you are dependent upon it. Unfortunately, electric wheelchairs and guide dogs cannot be brought on board. Please note that participating in shore activities and going out in the Zodiacs (subject to weather conditions) may not be possible for guests with physical limitations. We reserve the right to restrict participation in group activities to guests who can manage the entire activity without problem and without external assistance. Unfortunately, guests who are dependent on a wheelchair cannot travel in the Zodiacs. Whether or not guests can go ashore by tender boat (when the ship is at anchor) is also dependent on the weather and cannot always be guaranteed. To ensure that you experience a relaxing cruise where everything goes smoothly, before booking please provide us with details of your physical impairment and enquire as to whether we can meet your individual needs.

HEALTH AND HYGIENE ADVICE

There are currently no longer any Covid 19 restrictions in most parts of the world. Nevertheless, we ask you to continue to protect yourself against infections. We also ask for your understanding if there are any last-minute adjustments to individual programme items. These changes are always made in the interest of the health and safety of our guests and crew and are in line with current official requirements.

INSURANCE PROTECTION RECOMMENDATION

For their own protection, the passenger is advised to take-out comprehensive travel insurances, if this is not already part of the cruise package. We generally recommend taking out travel cancellation insurance, travel termination insurance and travel medical and major medical insurance that is valid worldwide, including emergency medical evacuation/repatriation for the entire period of your trip, as well as insurances covering luggage, travel liability.
